Successful Leadership Begins with Core Values

Don Horner believes that successful leadership begins with core values. With nearly 30 years of management experience, Horner oversees one of the top performing and highest credit rated banks in the U.S., with over 12 years of consistent earnings growth. He will highlight the five core values that have successfully served First Hawaiian Bank for 150 years.

Donald G. Horner

Donald G. Horner, currently CEO, joined First Hawaiian Bank in 1978 as a credit analyst after serving in the U.S. Navy from 1972 to 1976. In addition to heading one of the nation's top-performing banks, Mr. Horner is very active in leading and supporting community groups, including the Hawaii Bankers Association, the Children's Discovery Center, and the Hawaii Asia Pacific Association, among many others.

Leadership Luncheon Lecture Series

This is a new seminar series designed to fit into the busy schedules of local leaders in the public and private sectors.

The 21st century will present new challenges to leaders the world over. Our mission at APC is to give business and government leaders of the Asia-Pacific community the knowledge and inspiration they need to cope with the effects of burgeoning populations, increasing development, and increasingly volatile international interactions.

We invite you to come and gain insight into the changes sweeping this important region, and to broaden your perspective on global economics, politics, business, and environmental issues. For the latest luncheon lecture series schedule, please visit www.apchawaii.org or call (808) 942-0698.

APC is a non-profit, educational institution, established in 2005. Other programs include a two-year intensive course ending in a Masters in Intercultural Leadership (MIL), as well as short-term workshops and certificate programs designed for students to broaden their cross-cultural perspective on leadership styles and issues in the Asia-Pacific region.
